

Usage Rights

The Compliance Gate Platform can either be used for your own organization, or on behalf of the customers of your organisation.

Your organisation (Standard)

1. This means that you can only use the Compliance Gate Platform to create requirements lists, certificates, label files, and request support for your own company.
2. This is suitable for most brands, manufacturers, importers, and e-commerce companies using the platform for their own products.

Third-parties (Expanded)

1. You can use the Compliance Gate Platform to create the following on behalf of your customers:

- Requirements lists
- Certificates
- Labels

2. You can use the Compliance Gate Platform to support paid consulting work or support requests from your customers. Examples include:

- a. Freight forwarders that need to identify requirements for their customers
- b. Consultants that need to create requirements lists, certificates, and/or label files as part of a project

3. However, the following usage is prohibited:

- Selling individual requirements lists
- Selling individual certificates or certificate templates
- Selling individual label files or label templates
- Selling account access to individual users

4. It is important that you inform your customers that our requirements list doesn't necessarily cover all applicable regulations/directives/rules for a certain product. Further, your customers should carefully read the important information section in the PDF version of the requirements list to better understand its limitations.
